has been working with S. B. G. & K. Patent and Law Offices as a lawyer since 1994, the year he graduated from the Eötvös Lóránd University of Budapest. Before that, he studied at the Faculty of Law of the Rijksuniversiteit Limburg, Maastricht (the Netherlands) in 1991 and worked in barristers' chambers and a solicitors' firm in London under the Blanche Lucas Placement Scheme organised by the British Hungarian Law Association. As of today, he is head of the anti-counterfeiting department of S. B. G. & K; in addition he handles mostly parallel import and copyright infringement matters. He is a member of the Anti-Counterfeiting Committee and the Council of the European Communities Trade Mark Association (ECTA). He is the author of several articles on intellectual property related issues. He gives seminars on intellectual property law for customs and police officers on a regular basis. In June 2004, he participated as an advisor in the drafting procedure of the new Government Decree laying down the provisions for the implementation of EC Regulation 1383/2003 in Hungary.
